Corporate Flight Management Expands Infrastructure Development Services

Citing the sharp increase in demand for ground based infrastructure development services, CFM President David Augustin announced a new venture aimed at providing flight related infrastructure development services. Target customers include fixed based operators, airports and corporate flight departments. Services include design and construction of hangars, fuel farms, office and public reception space.

“In the past 3 years, Corporate Flight has added a total of 70,000 sq.ft. of hangar space and 7,000 sq.ft. of office and reception space at our Smyrna (TN) and Nashville facilities,” said Augustin. “This number does not include two major corporate hangars and office facilities that were constructed on our leased property at Smyrna Airport.”

Both Augustin and CFM CEO Allen Howell view infrastructure development as the next chapter in the company’s future.

“In the process of growing Corporate Flight, we’ve built a living library of hands on knowledge regarding selling and delivering goods and services to our customer base,” Howell said. “Beginning with infrastructure development we will market our full spectrum of knowledge as well,” he concluded.

Corporate Flight Management, Inc. is a multi national aviation services firm. The company provides, charter, maintenance, ground support, aircraft sales, training, infrastructure development and consulting services. Company headquarters are located in Smyrna (Nashville) Tennessee.
